Socialism.

CLIO, ARK., March 24, 1906. Ed. Register:—"Do my Socialist friends hold that government standing in loco parentis to all, we would drop our selfish characteristics? that there would be no grafting, no desire to accumulate or to get the better of our neighbor?"

The above are fair questions, and deserve careful answers. As to government, it must first be restored to its original character. "A government of, by and for the people." In fact, a great corporation in which every citizen is a stockholder. If a thousand men combine their labors, each sharing equally in the result, as well as in the labors, I must confess that I can't see any signs of paternalism or paternalism. Neither do I see where paternalism would develop, though the number of people be multiplied by one million. But if this vast body of people banded together for mutual benefit have no rules or regulations governing the individual action, or having such rules, have no power to enforce them, they are of course of no benefit. Therefore they must have power to enforce their rules. This power we call government. How can it be paternal? When the people again possess this power, through the initiative referendum and imperative mandate, they can have any rule or law they may desire. Under Socialism the people will be the government. Then the government can do anything for the people (the government) that the government (the people) may desire. If having somebody do something for us is paternalism, then we are now having the paternalism of capital; for we not constantly reminded that we can't do certain things for ourselves as well as capitalists can do them for us? How often are we informed that the P. O. Department is not a paying institution, and that we ought to have some one manage it for us?

As to the selfishness of human character—are we not creatures of environment? Let me call that illustrious statesman, John P. Altgeld, to witness. On page 14 of his book, "Live Questions." I find the following table showing prime causes of crime, on a basis of five hundred men:

Table with 2 columns: Cause and Percentage. Includes categories like HOME INFLUENCES, SCHOOL PRIVILEGES, HABITS, AGE AT FIRST PENITENTIARY CRIME, and RACE.

These figures speak volumes. Now what Socialists claim is this: when we eliminate interest, rent and profit, we will have destroyed nine-tenths of the incentive to evil—for are not the crimes of graft, booting and all kindred crimes committed for profit? A word now as to incentive, and I am done. If you had a fine flowing spring that had always afforded you an abundance of pure cold water, and that you believe would always furnish water in abundance, would you dam it up to hoard its waters? If not, why hoard food, clothing, houses and lands when there will always be abundance for all? But is there no higher incentive than the accumulation of dollars? When I was a small boy this country was in the throes of a great Civil War, and if I have not been incorrectly informed, the editor of the REGISTER shouldered his musket and went to face the foes of his country. Let him tell what was the incentive. I don't believe it was the thirteen dollars per that he received. Oh, incentive! Thou art indeed a boggy man! How many high aspirations must we smother because all our lives are given over either to the accumulation of dollars or to fighting the gaunt wolf of want. If we only could supply our needs with a few hours of toil daily, what wonderful things might we not do with the extra time put at our disposal! would any sane man be idle? How often must the painter's brush, the sculptor's chisel, the writer's pen, be laid aside to take up the struggle for existence.

Roselle Items.

The roads are drying up in this vicinity, but are very bad yet. There was no church at Graniteview Sunday on account of Rev. Ross not being present.

Mrs. F. M. Thompson, who has been superintendent of the Sunday school for more than a year, resigned her position last Sunday on account of her ill health. Wm. Singleton was elected in her stead. There was a Republican meeting held last Saturday at the Downs' school house, for the purpose of electing delegates to attend the Republican convention, which is to be held at Fredericktown, April 14th. On account of the scarcity of members of that party there was not a large crowd; only four attended, and two of them were elected as delegates.

Mrs. F. P. Johnson is still quite ill. She has been confined to her room for the past two months. Dr. Pritchett, who accidentally struck a twig of a bush in his eye while cutting sprouts, some three weeks ago, is much better. Clemma Robbs is very sick with rheumatism. Mrs. N. E. Braswell is much better at this writing. Carter Blanton of Arcadia is visiting in this vicinity. Mrs. F. M. Sharp is on the sick list. JACOB.
